

Terms of Delivery of K + G Tectronic GmbH, as of February 2023Scope

We are members of the SHEVS experts section within the ZVEI association. Effective are the ZVEI Terms of Delivery (General Conditions for the Supply of Products and Services) in the latest version (at present January 2022).

Our terms of delivery are exclusive. Supplementary agreements will not be valid unless confirmed in writing. Offers are without engagement if not agreed otherwise. The documentation accompanying the offer is approximately only. We reserve the proprietary right and the copyright for all documentation. The documents subject to these rights may not be disclosed to third parties and must be returned to us if so desired.

Delivery

The following shipping terms are only valid if shipping is organised by K + G. Dangerous goods surcharges (e. g. for CO₂ bottles) are always at your expense regardless of the value of the goods. Express delivery will be charged separately unless otherwise agreed. For delivery addresses outside of the European community, the Incoterms DAP apply. Zone classification (Z1 – Z4) see following page.

Kind and extent of our supplies is defined solely by our written confirmation of order.
Any agreement deviating from the confirmation of order is required in written form.
When ordering, please indicate our description and identification number of the unit required.
Please clearly mark any deviations in design.
All prices are shown without value added tax.

Minimum quantities to be ordered

Certain – appropriately marked – articles will be delivered without extra charge only as packaging units (PU).

Terms of payment

If not otherwise agreed, our invoices are payable net within 14 days of date invoice.
If payment is effected later than agreed payment deadline, we will charge penal interests, the amount of which being equal to the basic interest rate of the ECB plus 7.5 %. Late payments will invariably be used for settling our oldest claims. As long as older claims have not been satisfied, the customer is not entitled to deduct a discount from discountable invoices.
